What is Everyday harm

Everyday harm is when you are hurt by someone's:

Words.

Actions.

Decisions.

Everyday harm can be when someone:

Does not listen to you.

Leaves you out.

Makes decisions for you.

Does not talk to you nicely.

Makes you feel unsafe.

Does not give you the support you need.

Anyone can experience everyday harm.
It is not your fault.

WORKING TOGETHER
Preventing Everyday Harm

Flinders University

Photosymbols®
Publisher Licence 5622741336119

www.everydayharm.org.au